P R E F A C E .

AFTER a struggle of more than forty years, contending at the outset against a rugged clime, whose bleak winters were hostile to the successful introduction of the Saxon sheep as a basis,—with local ignorance and prejudice, and not less against the immense capital, the vast establishments, profound experience, and finished workmen of Europe, the Woollen Manufactures of the United States have at length achieved a character and importance second to no other branch of our National industry, and superior to most as a source of National wealth.

The history of the rise and progress of an infant empire, from feeble numbers, weakness, and poverty, to populous States and Cities, strength, and commercial prosperity unprecedented in the annals of time, would embrace all the industrial features of the Commonwealth, and which are the only levers that impel a nation to political and financial aggrandizement. Among a free people, the diplomacy of the Cabinet, as compared with the aggregate Industry, exerts a very feeble influence in stimulating the energies which unlock the springs of individual and National prosperity. This truth might be forcibly exemplified in the history of our own Woollen Manufactures; and were all the facts in reference to this single feature of our National industry, which are embodied in Congressional Reports, State Statistics, files of Periodicals, etc., collected, digested, and exhibited in a brief compendium, it would be made apparent, that the Woollen Manufacture of the United States, in its incipient growth and subsequent development, is more indebted to the patriotic enterprise and indomitable perseverance of individuals, whom primary difficulties and even reverses could not discourage, rather than to any special legislation, or popular countenance and appreciation; and as a natural consequence attending all human progress, that it has passed through all the vicissitudes of prosperity and adversity,—now suddenly elevated, then as suddenly depressed,—to-day courting investment, and anon deserted of capital,—until ultimately it has conquered its vantage ground, and established itself upon a stable and munificent basis, for the inheritance of posterity.

In the absence of such a compendium as we have alluded to, the present volume it is hoped will be acceptable, not only to those immediately concerned in the manufacture and sale of our Woollen Fabrics, but to the whole American people. The information which it embodies, though simple is interesting; exhibiting the number and locations of all the establishments engaged in the Woollen Manufacture throughout the United States, with the name of the Owner, Firm, or Company, the number of Condensing Cards run by each, the kind and quality of the various Fabrics made, and in the larger Factories where it could be ascertained, the Capital invested; the quantity of Staple worked up yearly, the number of Operatives employed, and amount of wages paid. To collect these facts, much time and labour has been devoted, and every establishment in the United States visited by the writer in person, or by his attorney, at an expense of more than $11,000.

It is high time that the men engaged in this great and increasing branch of National industry, which invigorates while it enriches the Republic, were made more intimately acquainted with each other. Their mutual interests demand it; and the present volume it is believed will materially subserve an object, whose individual and general importance are so closely allied.

CONNECTICUT.

THOMPSONVILLE CARPET MANUFAC.

Thompsonville, Hartford co.

Running 12 sets of condensing cards, 480 strands.

This extensive Establishment is situated on the banks of the Connecticut river, eighteen miles north of Hartford, and eight south of Springfield. The Hartford and Springfield Rail Road passes directly through the village, by which there are two daily conveyances to New-York, Boston, and Albany.

The Thompsonville Company was chartered in May, 1828, for the manufacture of every description of Carpeting. The quantity of Wool consumed per annum exceeds 1,000,000 lbs., or 2500 bales; Flax yarns, about 60,000 lbs. The population is fourteen hundred, one thousand of whom are employed by the Company. Wages paid per annum, $125,000.

The village contains the following buildings and mills: One Presbyterian and one Methodist church, two Hotels, about two hundred Dwellings, three large Carding and Spinning mills, four large Weaving shops, one Machine shop, one Dyeing establishment, one Blacksmith shop, one Tinman's shop, one Saw mill, one Grist mill, six large Warehouses, and one Hair-seating factory.

This establishment manufactures Aixminster, Wilton, Brussels, Threeply, Super. Ingrain, Damask, Venetian, and in fact every description of Carpeting, some of the most beautiful ever exhibited in this country. They also manufacture Rugs of every pattern and description. The number of yards manufactured here daily, is upwards of 1600, and the colours of the Carpets are equally durable with those of foreign importation. They have extensive wholesale warehouses for the sale of their goods in Spruce street, New-York.

It is said that wages at this establishment are fifty per cent. higher than are paid for the same class of work in Europe.

TARIFFVILLE MANUFAC. CO.,Tariffville, Hartford co.

Running 16 sets of condensing cards, 640 strands.

This extensive Establishment is owned principally by the same as the Thompsonville Company, and manufactures the like class of Carpets and Rugs. It is much more extensive than the Thompsonville, as, in addition to its enormous Carpet and Rug business, it manufactures very extensively Cottonades and Linseys, plain, figured and striped, of great variety and superior quality, weighing 3-4ths of a pound to the yard. This factory consumes 1,200,000 lbs. of Wool, 168,000 lbs. of Cotton, and 60,000 lbs. of Flax yarn per annum. They give constant employment to one thousand operatives, consisting of men, women and children, and pay them wages to the amount of $150,000 per annum. Their warehouse is the same with the Thompsonville Company, in Spruce street, N. York, where samples of all their manufactures can be examined.

ENFIELD MANUFAC. CO.,Thompsonville, Hartford co.

This Company was chartered by an act of the Legislature in June, 1845, with a capital of $300,000, and are now erecting a Mill, to be driven by steam power, 150 by 40 feet, four stories high besides basement; and will make when in operation one thousand Shirts and Drawers per day, of silk, cotton, wool and merino; and will run 3072 cotton, and 480 woolen spindles. F. S. & D. LATHROP, agents and part owners, William street, New-York, where samples can at all times be found. This Factory has some improved machinery.

JOHN BOYNTON & SON,Coventry, Tolland co.

Running 2 sets of condensing cards, 80 strands.

Manufacture a good quality of Kerseymeres and Sattinets.

Mr. Boynton is a large owner in several other establishments in his State, and is besides well and deservedly known, not only as an extensive machine-maker, but one of the best in the United States. His Roller Jacks and Condensing Cards are well known to gentlemen operating in wool. His machine business, however, is not confined to woollen, as, since his son has been associated with him, they manufacture largely both cotton and woollen machinery.

MASSACHUSETTS.MIDDLESEX MANUFAC. CO.,Lowell, Middlesex co.*

Running 36 sets of condensing cards, 1200 strands.

This is the largest Woollen Mill in the United States; employing, (male and female,) fifteen hundred operatives, and manufactures 119,000 yards of Broadcloths, and 624,000 yards of Kerseymeres per annum. The management of this extensive establishment is specially under the direction of Samuel Lawrence, Esq., of the firm of Lawrence, Stone & Lawrence, the owners. The great variety of plain, striped, checked, and fancy Kerseymeres made here are well known in every market in the United States; so are also their superior quality of Broadcloths. Notwithstanding the immense amount of goods manufactured annually, they find a ready sale for all, for the reason that the quality always proves fully equal to the recommendation given. It is truly delightful to witness with what wonderful regularity every department of this extensive establishment is conducted. Every operative to their appointed department—each managed with celerity, dispatch, and regularity, that cannot be surpassed in this or any other country. The colours warranted to stand.

This extensive Establishment is situated on the Blackstone, on the stage road between Providence, R. I., and Worcester, Mass., and owing to the death of Mr. D. D. Farnum, is now owned by Mr. W. Farnum, who continues the name of the late firm. He has three extensive Mills, viz. : one 350 by 50 ; one 80 by 36 ; one 60 by 34—all situated as above, and all managed by their present owner. Manufactures 62,400 yards of Broadcloths, 468,000 yards of fancy Kerseymeres, and 104,000 yards of plaid Kerseymeres, per annum. The Factory employs three hundred and fifty male, and one hundred and fifty female operatives, whose wages amount to upwards of $70,000 per annum. They use 1,100,000 pounds of Wool per annum, mostly of the finest of American growth. Mr. Farnum's goods are well known in all the principal markets in the United States, as he was one of the first to manufacture fancy goods, as above named. He has repeatedly received the Gold Medal from the American Institute and Mechanics' Fair, for the superior quality of cloths made by him. He has again, this season, had awarded him the Gold Medal from the Mechanics' Fair, in New-York, for the best fancy Kerseymeres ; in short, no establishment in this country is in better repute, or under better discipline, and correct management. No ardent spirits are allowed, and no hotel licensed to sell liquors in his neighbourhood. Next to the Middlesex Mills at Lowell, this is the largest Cloth Mill in the United States.

This factory receives its supply of water from Lake Michigan. There are many good water privileges in this region, which is also a fine sheep country.

MICHIGAN.

In Michigan there are at present but six small Factories, manufacturing goods adapted to their own market. This State has fine water power, and having a northern population, will soon become a manufacturing State. It is a fine Sheep country, situated between Lakes Michigan, Erie, St. Clair, and the Lake of the Woods.

There are in the north part of this State three other small factories, doing a good business. Illinois grows considerable quantities of Wool for the eastern markets.

WISKONSAN.

There have already been erected, in this Territory, seven small factories, which are manufacturing goods adapted to home use. The great emigration to this healthy country is likely to cause many factories to be erected immediately. This is destined to be a great State for the raising of Sheep. The water power is very abundant, and mills can be built at small expense.

MISSOURI.

This is one of the most healthy States West, and well calculated to manufacture largely, as they can grow any quantity of Sheep, and their facilities for transportation by river and lake are so good. Yet there are but three Woollen mills in the State, and those are small. They manufacture heavy goods for home use.

SOUTH CAROLINA

Has only one small Woollen mill, manufacturing coarse goods, for Negro wear.

IOWA

Has but two small mills. This Territory is likely soon to manufacture considerably, having good water power, and a healthy climate, and will be a great Sheep country.

NORTH CAROLINA

Has four small Woollen mills; the largest running 1 set of condensing cards, of 30 strands. Manufacture goods adapted to Negro wear.

TENNESSEE

Has two small Woollen factories, manufacturing goods for Negro wear.

GEORGIA

Has three small Woollen mills, manufacturing Negro cloths.

NEW-YORK.

[ADDENDA.]

ASA COLBURN,

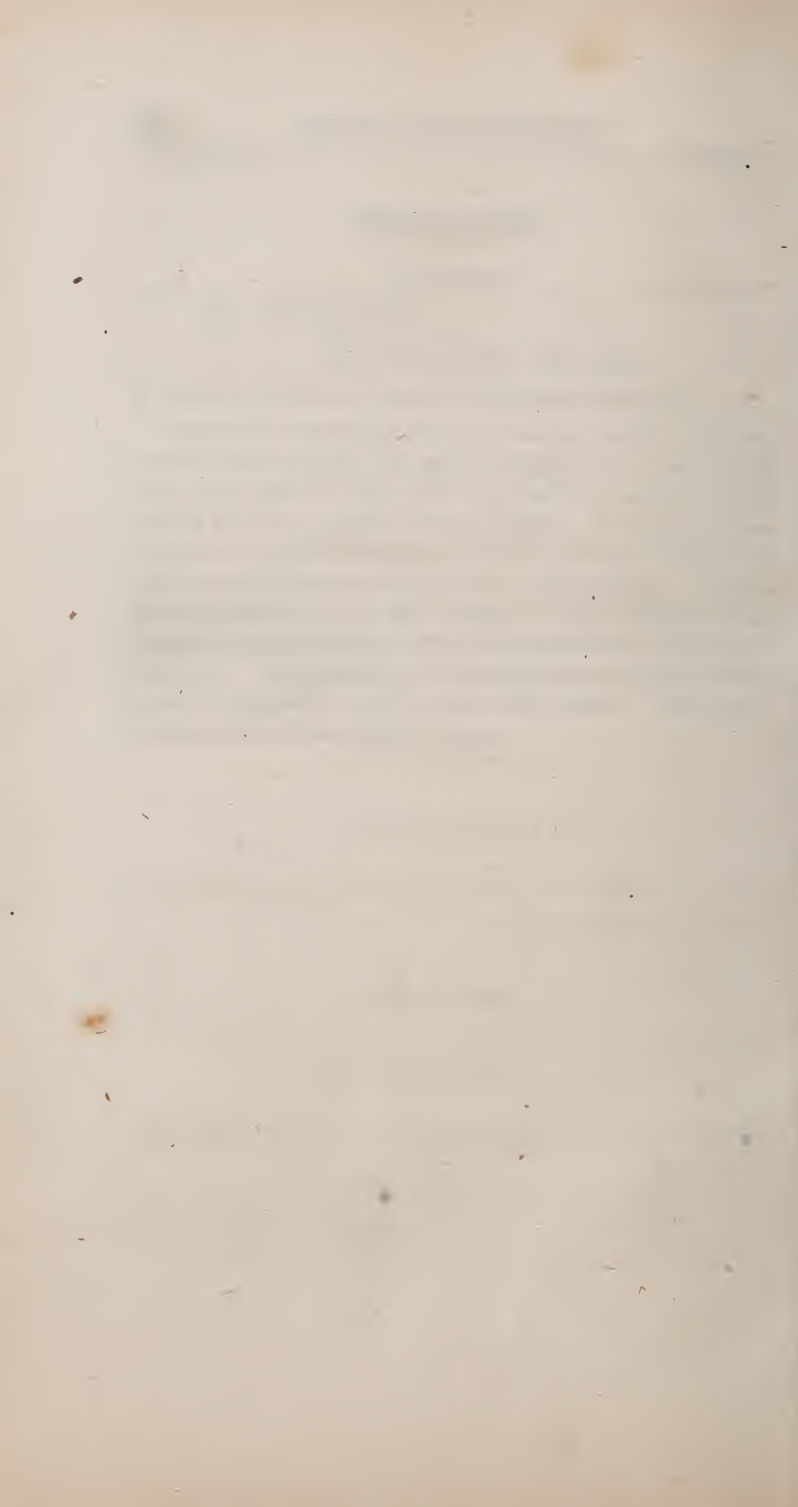

No. 7 Gold-street, New-York.

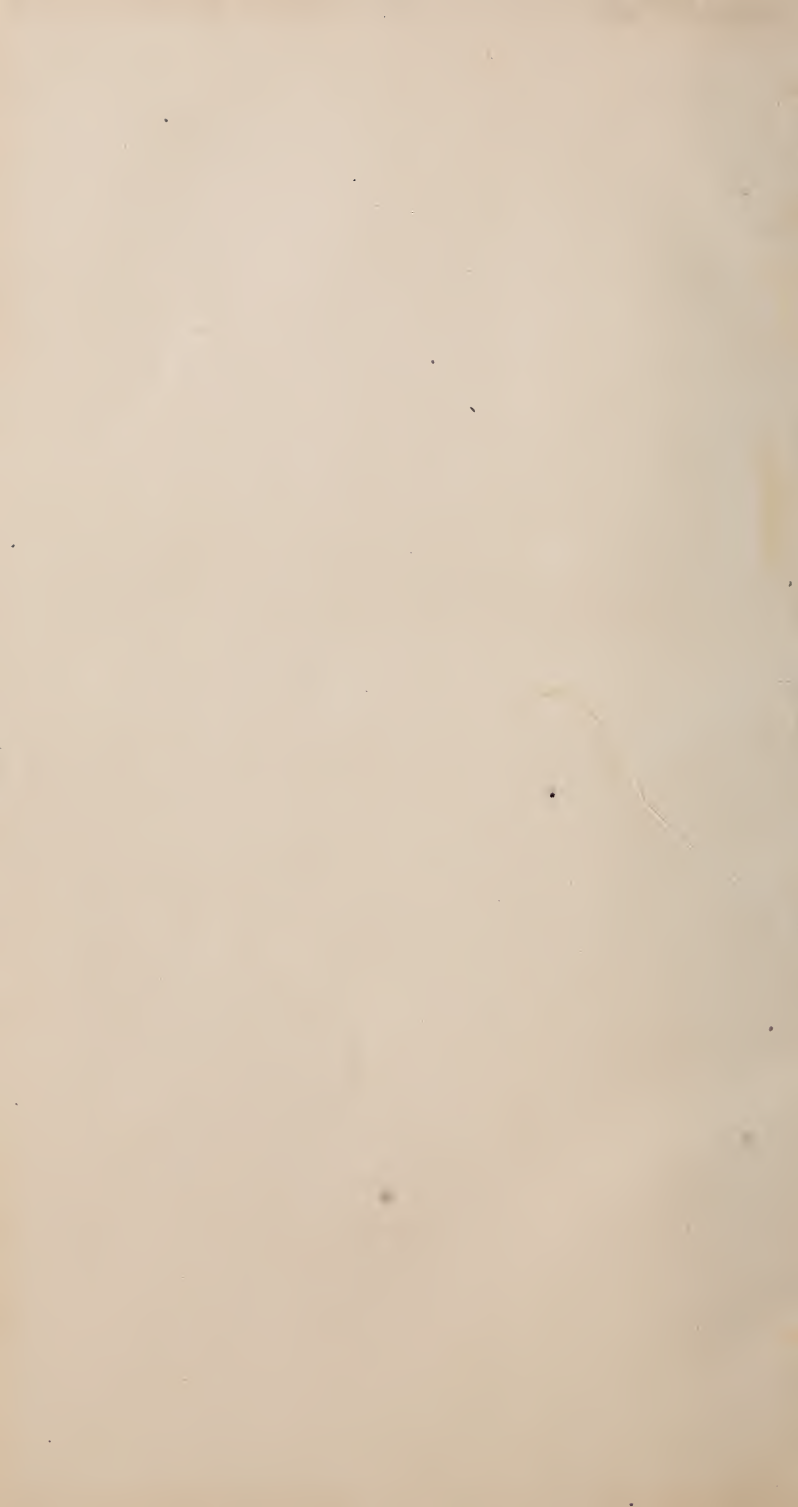

Printing Woollen, Cotton, and other fabrics.

I name this establishment for the reason that Mr. Colburn is so centrally situated, and many manufacturers, after getting their plain goods at the New-York market, find it for their interest to have a portion of them printed. Although at present he can only print about 3000 yards per day, still he will soon be so situated as to print almost any quantity. I advise manufacturers to call on Mr. Colburn. They will find much originality in his designs; and as to his execution, it is exceedingly good. He exhibited to me some blue stripes and checks, printed on black, as well as many other colours. He is located seven doors from Maiden Lane.
